THE FIRST U. S. COIN PRESS USED IN 1793.

PUBLISHED TWICE A MONTH FOR THE COLLECTOR OF COINS, CURRENCY, TOKENS AND MEDALS.

NOT ONE! BUT THREE RARE COLLECTORS' ITEMS

1943 Denver Bronze Cent

Probably the only one known, this cent was recently purchased from a man living in Sellersville, Pa. for an undisclosed amount. The story about this find and sale was mentioned nation-wide via newsprint and the UPI wire service.

UNIQUE Triple Struck 1943-1937 Bronze Cent

This rare cent is in a class of its own, only 1 exists—a priceless collectors' item. There's no question of copper alloy as it was struck first in 1937. Later, in 1943 it found its way back into the mint and into a press hopper while the steel zinc-coated cents were being struck. Thus the other date of 1943—both dates are raised. Note the double profile of Lincoln and Liberty at 1 o'clock near his eye. This coin was purchased from a Pittsburg dealer.

On the right is one of the finest known 1943-P bronze cents purchased from a North Haledon, N. J. couple.

A set of 1943-P-D-S Bronze cents would be the ultimate in collecting and worth a fabulous price. Read article on page (5) on how to determine genuineness of bronze 1943 cents.

Several inquiries to the nature and process of this rare and most publicized cent have been received along with others wanting to know the various methods to check for the genuineness if one is found. Note the three cover coins have noticeable VDB under Lincoln's shoulder. Your editor is probably the only one in the country who owns 3 bronze 1943 cents and is in the market for the 1943-S to complete the set, 1943-P-D-S.

For the many who may have reasonable doubts and questions about this cent, here is a resume: And the five best tests to determine its genuineness.

Here are the tests performed and report:

- Alterations. No trace of tool marks on the coin or near the date under a 60 power glass.
- Copper Plated—Weight. The cent was checked for proper weight, weighing 47.8 grains; the standard government weight is 48 grains, the variance is acceptable due to circulation. A zinc-steel cent weighed 42 grains, with magnetic property.
- Cast several Methods, Electrotpe, Ferrotypes. All show fuzziness or indefiniteness of outline, all are off-weight, most have poor sound ring, bubble marks, sand pits, seams on the edges.
- Forgeries from false dies. The workmanship immediately identifies it; portrait, lettering, and numerals differs from the genuine.
- Replicas. Is by far the closest to appear as genuine. Blank planchets accidentally slipped past the press dies, containing proper weight, alloy and measurement. A die can be made by pressing a genuine coin into a soft steel cylinder which is then case hardened. Thus a replica die, which can be very convincing and fool the average collector. The die used on the blank planchet, the coin would pass all of the above tests. A coin so made would almost certainly lack definition particularly minute detail—leaves, curls, lettering). Diameter and thickness would deviate from the genuine unless a collar had been specially made for the purpose of preventing the spreading of the flan in the die: an extremely exacting process. Replication is the most serious and dangerous duplication of a genuine coin. But this method is expensive and extremely difficult.

Although the Mint director states no Bronze Cents were issued during 1943, is is possible and without a doubt in my mind, coins of this nature can be manufactured unintentionally at the Mint and circulated during the process. A proven fact by the number of "Mint Errors" now in possession of the collector. These pieces (silver cents with varying dates, bronze 5 cent pieces, and one notable gold cent, among other numerous off-metal coins are fact. The previous items have been selling for as little as $25.00, hardly worth the time and expense of a costly die, the services of a skilled machinist and other efforts.

U.S. Pattern Book by Judd lists 3 known and verified.

A Special to Coin Press by R. A. Radice

The RCDA or the Retail Coin Dealers Association Inc. is a newly founded numismatic society deep in the heart of Texas. This numismatic society is different from others in existence today. It is different in that it is the first of its kind. As a matter of fact there is no other society today that even comes close to serving the purposes for which this corporation was created. It is different in that not everyone is eligible for membership. From a recent interview, via the post office, with Mr. Wilson F. Walters, secretary-treasurer of the RCDA I shall try to explain what I have learned of this society.

The present officers of the corporation are as follows: Mr. Eliot J. Cashdan, President, Fort Worth, Texas; Mr. J. K. Megginson; Vice-President and Mr. Wilson F. Walters, Secretary-Treasurer both of Denison, Texas.

At the time of this interview the membership stood at ninety two and I firmly believe that by now the membership will have gone well over this figure. To be eligible for membership one must be above the age of twenty-one years, of good character and reputation and must be a legitimate coin dealer either in coins or supplies. However, a part time coin dealer is also eligible for membership, provided he files with the corporation a statement signed by himself and three people in the community in which he lives that he is of good character and reputation. Any applicant regardless of status must be a member of some coin fraternity. Dues for membership is ten dollars for the first year and one dollar a month each year thereafter. Membership in the corporation is not limited to American dealers neither is eligibility for membership determined by race, creed or color.

The advantages that this corporation offers to a member dealer are numerous and I shall mention a few. The corporation establishes awards to prevent swindles and frauds. It is a place where a member dealer may record information against a wrong doer. The corporation is constantly working toward bettering the business standards of the coin dealer. This next advantage I feel alone constitutes enough reason for a coin dealer to join this society. It is written in the by-laws of the RCDA that, "The corporation will authorize a one hundred dollar reward for information concerning any robbery, and the theft over $50.00 upon or against any member of the RCDA." Recently one of the members, Mr. Sidney Smith of Miami, Florida, was robbed of a substantial sum of coins. The corporation had previously had a standing reward of $100.00 but has since raised it to $500.00 in the hope that this new rise in reward would get Mr. Smith a part of his stolen property back. With this type of protection a dealer can't deny that he would want to become a member of this society. If he does I would rather not say what this dealer has for brains. The corporation also furnishes facts and information to members concerning the coin business and information furnished by law enforcement authorities. It protects members against unjust complaints but requires its members to be fair in their business deals. To add more enjoyment from membership the corporation holds a quarterly contest for its members with prizes of $10.00.

Information is accepted by the corporation on unscrupulous dealers or other persons from anyone who feels that he has sufficient reason for complaint. This information if sufficient is recorded in the credit and complaint files of the corporation, and is later disseminated to the members of the corporation. I therefore ask all non-members to put this to advantage.

This corporation was established because its founders felt that a need existed for a corporation like this in the numismatic field. The founders felt that there was a need for better business standards, a code of ethics, also that this corporation could go further to protect its membership and promote better business standards in the numismatic field than any other organization heretofore existing.

One of the future plans of this newly founded corporation is to set up a committee to work out a code of ethics both for the dealer and for the collector. Another is to hold an annual convention of the corporation each year in a different part of the country. It can clearly be seen that this is an organization of fast workers, one that any dealer would be proud to be a member of.

I hope that I have made clear what this society is and what it offers. To help clarify even further I would like to quote Mr. Walters, "In recent years there has been a tremendous increase in coin dealers due to the rise of the numismatic hobby. It came to a time, due to so many entering into the numismatic field that a corporation was needed to protect those who would do right against those who would do wrong, to protect the honest from the dishonest, and to require standardization of the numismatic field with the final adoption of a code of ethics for the collectors, a code of ethics for the dealer; to help prevent frauds and swindles upon innocent victims and to have a common source among all members where information can be furnished, or received in the interest of all. To fight to the end for a member, when such member is right, and to help him get straightened out if such member be in error; to establish standard policies among the members of the corporation, when it is felt that such policies would be of the best interest of the members, and to the buying public.

R. Hartoon of 212 S. Brock St., Sarnia, Ontario, Canada submitted the above oddity. It appears to be a Quebec Token struck over a Marshall Wellington Token. Note bottom of left photo showing part of mail garment facing left. Illustration is listed as 1012, page 169 of Canadian Coins, Paper Currency and Tokens, 3rd Edition by Taylor and James.

This token was struck in brass, no doubt a collector's conversational piece.

CHINESE CASH
by Kalvart K. Tidwell, ANA16320

With the turn of the century the writer was living in a small North Texas town - Decatur, county seat of Wise. Here a college site, our father was Professor of Latin and Greek, and later became college president.

Like many Southwest towns in those days, we had a Chinese laundry, housed with living quarters in an unpainted wood frame building on the south edge of the business district, an individual known simply as "John Chinaman," conducted his trade. He washed and ironed by hand, and did a thorough job, too. He had plenty of business. A lighted lantern in John's work room at night (quite regular) meant that John was catching up - "Clothes no stay clean, quick back here. Too short day," was his explanation.

As a lad we made friends with just about everybody in town - John included. We stopped in to see him quite often - fascinated by his manner of dampening shirts and flatwork. John had a self-contained, built in sprayer. He would fill his mouth with water and blow out a fine, even mist upon the piece being ironed. In this manner little was wasted. One full mouth of water accounted for many a dampening.

John was always singing. "Make work not hard," he would say. Too, he loved to tell about his homeland - about his brothers and sisters back there. It seemed to lessen the loneliness when he could talk to someone about these things - even to a child.

One day (midsummer of 1903) we found the laundry's door fastened up. A crude sign nailed thereon read, John go to China - soon come back. Folks talked about John - missed him and his work sorely. Months pass, then a few days before Christmas the sign was down. John had returned. He had worked his way across the Pacific and back - all to visit his own country, people, and loved ones.

John had not forgotten this lad. He called us into his curtained off world - a nook containing a cot where he slept, a table, chair and trunk. Meals, mostly rice and rice broth, were prepared on the charcoal furnaces used to heat the heavy, flat irons. From the trunk John gathered up the small gifts he had brought us from China - a half dozen, fuse entwined, packages of firecrackers and a handful of bright, new Chinese coins of copper alloy, called cash, with a square hole in the center. The cash, for many centuries, was the only coin of China.

About a year later our friend moved away to open a restaurant in a large city. As he was about 30 years old at the time of our story, we must assume that he is now dead. Not so, however, regards our interest in Chinese cash pieces. The many types of this long issued coin commands this collector's serious attention, and presents a rugged challenge seldom met.

Ray Gold Moves

All moved in and ready for business. That's Ray Gold who recently moved his firm from Albert Lea, Minnesota, to Danbury, Connecticut.

Despite the appropriateness of his name, Ray is specializing in Lincoln cents and steering clear of gold when he can. "It's not that I don't buy and sell gold," he said, "it just doesn't appeal to me."

Located at 72 White Street in Danbury, the store carries a complete stock of American and foreign coins plus all coin supplies.

Ray is married and has two children. He indicated that he prefers Connecticut schools for his children, one of the main reasons for moving.

Formosa Imposes Gold Import Ban

TAIPEI, FORMOSA — Formosa imposed a temporary ban on gold imports Sunday, claiming it has more of the precious metal than it knows what to do with. Investors previously were allowed to import gold and sell it through the state-owned central trust for investment purposes. The trust now has 20,000 ounces of investors' gold for sale — but no takers.

JOIN THE NEW FREEHOLD COIN CLUB

As a news item and I hope an informative item to any other Coin Collectors in this immediate area, I am sending this along to you.

I have subscribed to your magazine for the past two years now and have found some very worthwhile material for the new and advanced collectors. Keep up the good work.

I felt and knew that there were other Coin Collectors besides myself in the area of Freehold, N. J. so I contacted several of them, and we have started a New Coin Club here in Freehold. It is still in the formation stages, but we have signed up 11 new members already. At present there is only one office, and that is of Acting-President, which I presently hold.

We hold our meetings the 1st and 3rd Wednesdays of every month, in the basement of the borough library here in Freehold. The meetings start at 8:00 P.M.

Any interested Coin Collector is cordially invited to attend, whether he is just a beginner or a more advanced collector.

I hope the New Club as a whole will be able to benefit greatly from the informative articles and ads that appear in your magazine.

Dear Editor:

Kindly give a little more information on the 1960 Double D's.

I found 49 pieces in 8 rolls, I sent one piece to you for classification—your verdict was "semi filled yes." Now what I and other collectors would like to know is how the fully filled and the semi filled D's look?

Kindly publish photos or diagrams of these.

—John Hecedes

Editor's note: Semi filled is when there is no clear 2 distinct bars at left of D only one line. Will publish photo as soon as possible.

Dear Sir:

A friend of mine loaned me a copy of your May 18 issue of "The Coin Press." Being a subscriber he saves all of your back issues, and was reluctant to let me cut out your subscription coupon.

I would like, if possible, your Special Introductory Order, and am enclosing $1.00 for my first (4) four issues, starting as soon as possible.

Dear Sir:

I have been getting your magazine for a year now and I enjoy it very much, in fact I think it is the best coin magazine on the market and as long as I collect coins I wouldn't want to be without it. When it comes to first rate information you're tops. There is one thing I would like to give my opinion on, I think that all coins that are added to the red book should be added within a five year limit so it would give a poor collector a chance to buy and find them. It is hard for anyone to say they have a complete collection of anything. Like you think you have all the Indian head cents and then they go and find another one and I don't think they should go back this far. That's why I say they should go back five years at the most. I think the way it is now it's all for the dealers. They can get their hands on something cheap some years before and Yeoman can put it in the red book and the dealer can make a killing on it. In fact most of the findings like double strike cents or over dates must be found in the first or second year then if they're going to put it in the red book why don't they, so everyone would have a chance instead of waiting ten or twenty years. I wonder how other collectors feel about this?

FILLED DIE STRIKE

I have been collecting for two years now and have found the coin magazine I have been looking for, namely The Coin Press. I got my first issue about three weeks ago, the April 29 issue, and was sold on it. Enclosed you will find a check for $3.00 for a one year subscription.

In the April 29 issue, you published a letter from A. Mastro-mauro, Jersey City, N.J., about a 1933 (blank 4) Lincoln penny. After reading this I looked at my 1943 pennies. I have a 1943S with a clear 9 and 3, a poorly struck 1 and S, and just a dot of the 4. The coin is out of circulation but shows no sign of being tampered with.

1907 Saint-Gaudens $20. Donated To Smithsonian

Washington, D.C., May 15, 1961.—The Smithsonian Institution announced today the donation by Mr. Cornelius Van S. Roosevelt of Washington, D.C., of an experimental high-relief double eagle or $20 gold piece, dated 1907, designed by Augustus Saint-Gaudens at the request of President Theodore Roosevelt.

This is one of the great rarities of the United States coin series and has in addition an unusual historical connotation since it was owned originally by Theodore Roosevelt, who had devoted considerable efforts toward its design and production.

In fact, in the winter of 1905, Theodore Roosevelt met at a dinner in Washington with Augustus Saint-Gaudens whose sculptures the President admired greatly. The conversation drifted to the beauty of ancient Greek coins, described by Saint-Gaudens as almost the only coins of real artistic merit. Why could not the United States have coins as beautiful as the Greek ones, the President wished to know. If Saint-Gaudens would model them, he, the President, would cause them to be minted.

Thus started a unique venture in modern monetary history. Manifesting once more his versatility and extraordinary energy, Theodore Roosevelt found the time to conduct personally the campaign for a more artistic series of United States coinage designs. On November 6, 1905, the President said in a letter to Saint-Gaudens regarding these designs:

"I want to make a suggestion. It seems to me worth to try for a really good coinage; though I suppose there will be a revolt about it! I was looking at some gold coins of Alexander the Great today, and I was struck by their high relief. Would it not be well to have our coins in high relief, and also to have the rims raised? The point of having the rims raised would be, of course, to protect the figure on the coin; and if we have the figures in high relief, like the figures on the old Greek coins, they will surely last longer. What do you think of this?"

For two years President and sculptor give much time and energy to the task of producing the new coin designs. The models finally adopted for the double eagle were of unusual artistic merit. The obverse showed a standing figure of "Liberty," holding aloft in her right hand the torch of enlightenment and in the left the olive branch of peace. On the reverse side was a rendering of a flying eagle above a rising sun.

A few experimental pieces having an extremely high relief were struck at the President's order. These exceedingly rare pieces can be easily distinguished from the ones issued later for general circulation, and also having a very high relief.

The field of the rare experimental pieces is excessively concave and connects directly with the edge without any border, giving it a sharp knife-like appearance; the Liberty's skirt shows on side of right leg two folds; the Capitol building in the background at left is very small; the date, 1907, is in Roman numerals. The sun, on the reverse side, has 14 rays.

In addition to these experimental pieces, 11,250 high-relief $20 gold pieces were struck on a medal press for general distribution and may be found today in many collections. Their relief is somewhat lower than that of the experimental pieces. Around the edge they have a border; the Liberty's skirt has three folds on side of right leg; the Capitol building is considerably larger; the date, 1907, is indicated in Roman numerals. On the reverse, there are only 13 rays extending from the sun.

For practical reasons and especially since these high-relief coins could not be struck on a regular coin press and would not stack, it was decided soon to revert to the customary flat relief. A large number of similar flat-relief double eagles were issued in 1907 (these pieces show the date in Arabic numerals) and in later years up to 1933, when the issuance of gold coins was discontinued.

Theodore Roosevelt's $20 gold piece, donated by Mr. Cornelius Van S. Roosevelt, will be placed on permanent display in the Smithsonian Institution's new hall of monetary history. It should remind us of the President's words about this piece:

"Certain things were done of which the economic bearing was more remote but which bore directly upon our welfare, because they add to the beauty of living and therefore to the joy of life."

COIN SURVEY

On a trip to Oklahoma during August of 1960 I noticed a copy of "The Coin Press" at a newsstand in Vinita, Okla.

I bought it just to have something to look at. Figured it may have some interesting coin ads.
Well I started at the front and each page became more interesting. I was completely sold and as soon as I got home I subscribed for two years. It is a wonderful magazine and truly designed to let all types of coin collectors from all over the U.S.
rub shoulders with each other.
It has doubled my own interest in coin collecting.

As for your coin survey I have a 1909-S Indian head, 1909 SV
DB, 1914-D, 1909-S pennies; 1939
-D, 1950-D nickels; 1932-S, 1932

obverse D and 1938-D half dol-

THE FALLEN 4 VARIETY

Just received a copy of your magazine (April 29, 1961) and would like to submit my subscription and a few comments.

Mr. Vitello's large cent is the "Fallen Four" variety. This is Sheldon No. 63 and in the condition pictured would be worth about $8-$12 as a variety. I also would question the reasons for making an electrotype of such a relatively common variety. It would also seem difficult to accurately match the edge lettering, perhaps the coin is genuine?

On the subject of 1943 copper cents, recent publications indicate that 17 have been found which pass all tests for genui-ness (?). Also 11 cents of 1944 on steel planchets have been reported. Recorded sales of each (within the last two months) were for $675. Much attention has been focused on these coins and the fact that the mint says none were minted, however, the mint would, undoubtedly, also claim that no cents were coined on dime planchets, etc. Yet many off planchet coins are known, most of which sell for considerably less than the prices noted above.

Central Penna. Second Annual Coin Show...Hershey, Pa.

APRIL 14-15 & 16th, 1961

The Second Annual "Central Pennsylvania Coin Show" sponsored by The Harrisburg Coin Club, West Shore Coin Club & Hershey Coin Club, proved to be a successful affair. Thirty-eight dealers were in attendance for the three days. An estimated five thousand persons attended the three day session.

A diversified display of monies drew quite a few favorable comments from the spectators. The displays were secured from members of the three clubs and many nice sets, part sets, single items, odd and curious were entered in the exhibits.

James N. Wagner, General Chairman of the show, stated that along with the dealers in attendance from seven states and Canada, many visitors from several states attended same.

Ribbon cutting ceremonies were favored with the presence of Mr. S. F. Hinkle, President of the Hershey Chocolate Corporation, who welcomed all to the "Chocolate Town".

Plaques were given to the three best exhibits.

CANDY - COINS

Courtesy of Corn Industries Research Foundation, Inc.

Other etymological nuggets emerge from the vast ores of candy history. A French dame who loved the local small fry confection for their delight a dainty made of honey, sugar, eggs, nuts, and fruit. The kids expressed their gratitude by saying "Tu nous gâtes!" ("You spoil us.") Nougat, as you have guessed by now, was thus coined. Marzipan is erroneously credited to a Brandenburg cook named Frank Marzip. The truth, according to MD, the Medical Newsmagazine, is that the almond paste was known to Oriental gourmets for centuries. Crusaders brought it back to Europe in the shape of a coin then current, the marchpane.

Chocolate has its own claims to antiquity but, oddly enough, was a late entry into the candy world.

The cacao bean is the source of all our chocolate and cocoa. Dark brown and resembling almonds, the beans grow in pods the size and shape of a small football, attached directly to the trunk of the cacao tree.

Cacao culture flourishes in tropical regions of heavy rainfall, with a marked concentration in West Africa. Ghana, Nigeria, the Ivory Coast, and the Cameroons now supply about two-thirds of the world's needs.

The early history of chocolate, however, is shrouded in the ancient mists of the Mexican and Central American rain forests. Centuries before the white man knew of Mexico, the Aztec ruling families fancied a cacao-bean beverage called "chocolatl." (The Aztecs used the beans as money, too. According to report, the price of a good slave was 100 beans.)

BLUE VALLEY COIN CLUB

Our club meets on the 3rd Tuesday of each month in Wymore, Community Room, Wymore National Bank. We have 46 members as of our last meeting. Our club was organized in April of 1960 and in April of this year we had our election of officers for the 2nd year as follows: President, Sherman Kirkpatrick; Vice President, Virg Marshall; Secretary, Ed Aden; Treasurer, William Walters.

At all of our meetings we have an auction, (limited to 60 items or lots), door prize and refreshments, usually coffee and rolls, cookies or doughnuts. We also feature a speaker on Coins, Collecting, or the like. The cost of obtaining a speaker, refreshments, and door prize is paid out of the treasury.

Our dues are $2.00 per year, with students up to high school age at half rate or $1.00. We charge 5 per cent for our items on auction with a maximum of $1.00 per item or lot.

In April our club put on a display in the Heffelfinger Jewelry Store in connection with National Coin Week. Our display consisted of type sets of gold, completed sets of Lincolns, Mercurys, Buffalo & Liberty Nickel sets, and also a brilliant uncirculated set of Shield Nickels, display by Club Member, Clair Marshall.

In Sept. of this year, we plan to promote a hobby show in Beatrice, Nebr., and we are planning for our July meeting for each member to bring a guest which should bring in a few more interested prospects.

We Present
THE OFFICIAL MEDAL
OF THE
CIVIL WAR CENTENNIAL
1861 - 1961

The Coin and Currency Institute, Inc., of New York and California has been appointed sole national distributor of this medal, which commemorates officially the centennial of the Civil War.

It will be available in both bronze and silver about May 31, 1961.

The medal which is 2½" in size, is being issued under authority of the Civil War Centennial Commission, which was created by Act of Congress. The medal will be struck by the Medallion Art Company from designs and sculptor's models that have been approved by the U.S. Government Fine Arts Commission in Washington, D.C.

As can be seen from the above illustration, the obverse bears the portraits of General Ulysses S. Grant and General Robert E. Lee. The reverse shows the seal of the Civil War Centennial Commission, having as its main theme, a Union and Confederate soldier. The medal will be sold in its own specially made container and will come with a printed, informative leaflet.

In addition to the bronze medal, there will be an issue of pure silver medals, which will be limited to 25,000 serially numbered pieces. The purity of the silver will be greater than .999.

The official prices of the Civil War Centennial Medal are as follows:

The Bronze medal	$ 4.00
The pure silver medal	30.00

(Please note: Because of the limited issue the silver medals are offered subject to being sold out. Those wishing a silver medal should place their order now. Earlier this year many thousands were disappointed when their orders for silver Inaugural medals were placed too late. Because of the overwhelming national interest in the Civil War, it is expected that the silver medals will be quickly sold out.)

The bronze and silver medals will be available about May 31, 1961 at your local coin and stamp dealer, department store coin counters, hobby shops etc., or you may write to either our New York or California office. Established dealers wishing to carry this medal for resale should write to us at once for our terms.
